

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Epoch Homes Receives Third National Award for Modular Home Design Excellence

Epoch Homes, a leading Green Custom Modular Manufacturer was awarded first place in the 2010 Excellence in Home Design for Modular Home over 4,001 sq. ft. by the NAHB's Building Systems Council for the third consecutive year.

PEMBROKE, NH. October 28, 2009 -- For the third year in a row, Epoch took first place for Excellence in Design- Modular Homes over 4,001 sq. ft at the BSC Awards Luncheon. The Building Systems Councils (BSC) of the National Association of Home Builders honored more than 20 industry leaders—representing concrete, log, modular, and panelized building systems—at their annual BSC Excellence in Marketing and Home Design awards program this month. Epoch won this year's award for a beautiful shingle style ten module home built in Westport, CT.

John Ela, Epoch CEO, stated, "Epoch has always been the leader in pushing the design envelope. We have been very successful in discerning markets like Fairfield County, CT, where we built the largest modular home ever built, a 16,000 square foot mansion in Greenwich CT.” He added that “Epoch appeals to the knowledgeable consumer because of our design capabilities, fast build time, high quality, and cost savings”. Ela said that Epoch is also focusing on “Green Building” to preserve our natural resources and reduce the impact of housing on the environment. “It is a real honor to be recognized for our design efforts in this competitive category three years in a row” he said.

Sponsored by the NAHB Building Systems Councils, the BSC Excellence in Marketing and Home Design Awards has promoted excellence in the systems-built housing industry for more than ten years. The winners were announced at an awards luncheon in Marco Island, Florida, held in conjunction with the BSC SHOWCASE event—the leading trade show and conference based centered on the systems-built housing industry. Home manufacturers, builders and industry associates were among the groups recognized. Epoch also won first place for Green Building in this years awards.

These, along with other award winning homes can be seen at www.epochhomes.com. The award winning projects will also be on display at the 2010 International Builders’ Show in Las Vegas.
